2.2 Catering to Diverse Needs

2.2.1 Is there a provision for assessing the students' knowledge and skills before the commencement of the programme? If yes, give details on the strategies of the institution to bridge the knowledge gap of the incoming students for enabling them to cope with the programme to which they are enrolled.

Profile tests are conducted to identify their strength in core subjects, languages and identify other interests. Based on performance in profile tests bridge courses are conducted, and students are also encouraged to take up suitable extra-curricular activities that match their interests.

2.2.2 How does the institution identify slow and advanced learners? Give details on the strategies adopted for facilitating slow and advanced learners.

Every Teacher identifies slow and advanced learners in their respective subjects on the basis of marks obtained in Profile Tests, first CIA and classroom performance. Remedial classes are scheduled after college hours and a centralized time table is followed. Faculty assist slow learners to overcome fear of learning the subject through counseling personalized coaching and intensive training. Study material are made available to the students. Both the slow learners and the advanced learners are provided with question banks and unsolved question papers of the last five years. Short Tests are conducted regularly to assess and improve their performance.

Advanced learners are encouraged to perform better and aim for University ranks. With this target in mind, they are engaged with challenging assignments, group projects, advanced reading tasks and paper presentations in conferences within and outside the college, as a measure to enhance their knowledge.

2.2.3 Does the institution have a provision for tutorials for the students? If yes, give details.

Tutorial classes are conducted for subjects that require special attention. Students are chosen on the basis of their performance in the profile test. Classes are conducted after college hours and a fixed time schedule is prepared. Teachers provide tutorial assistance to students in areas of difficulty. Periodic evaluation is conducted and records maintained to assess students' progress.

2.2.4 Is there a provision for mentoring of students or any similar process? If yes, give details.

The college has implemented mentoring and counseling system for the benefit of its students. Each staff serves as mentor for a specific group of students. Mentor meetings are organized once every fortnight within college timings for a period of one hour. Wards meet their mentors and discuss matters pertaining to academics, family background and their college and personal life. Mentors keep track of their wards' academic performance in a mentor card updated regularly by wards. The cards carry ward-specific data - personal, academic and other relevant information.

A professional Counselor visits the college once a week. Students avail the opportunity to share their concerns with the expert who assists them in such key areas as problem solving and decision making to help secure their future and alleviate their concerns.

2.2.5 How does the institution cater to the needs of differently-abled students?

Special care is taken to make the campus comfortable for all sections of students and especially so for the differently-abled. Extra time is provided during CIAs and model examinations. If necessary, a scribe is provided for such students. The ground floor area is made user friendly for them through provision of a slope at the student entrance. The differently-abled students are accommodated in the ground floor to the extent possible.

2.3 Teaching-Learning Process

2.3.1 How does the institution plan and organize the teaching-learning and evaluation schedules? (Academic calendar, teaching plan and evaluation blue print, etc.)

Academic Calendar

The institution plans the teaching-learning and evaluation schedule to fit into the institution's schema. The Principal and Senior members of staff plan the schedule taking public holidays and tentative university exam dates into consideration. The finalized schedule is printed in the college calendar which contains the institution's itinerary for the academic year. The calendar is distributed to the students and staff at the commencement of the academic year.

Teaching Plan

A teaching plan [Lesson Plan] is prepared by each staff for the upcoming semester according to the number of working days scheduled in the college calendar. A hard and soft copy of the plan is submitted to Vice Principal after verification by the Head of the Department.

Evaluation Blue Print

A meeting is convened with Principal, Vice Principal, Convener of Exams and Heads to determine the evaluation pattern for the academic year. As the institution follows the Choice Based Credit System implemented by the University of Madras, continuous internal assessment forms the chief mode of testing. The number of CIAs, the schedule of dates for CIAs, Question Paper Submission and Mark Submission are decided and notified to the staff. In addition, staff are also notified about the question paper pattern, number of sections and questions in each section, as well as other modes of testing such as assignments and seminars, on the basis of discussions.

2.3.2 What are the various teaching- learning methods (lecture method, interactive method, project-based learning, computer-assisted learning, experiential learning, seminars and others) used by the teachers? Give details.

The institution facilitates effective implementation of several teaching-learning methods. Workshops and seminars organized at periodic intervals for this purpose ensure that new ideas are shared and practiced by the faculty.

Lecture Method

The lecture method with the aid of the black board and chalk forms the primary method of instruction in all departments. The medium of instruction is English. All faculty prepare a lesson plan and adhere to it through the course of the semester, ensuring that portions are completed on time. Notes of lessons are prepared by the staff for the benefit of students.

Interactive Method

All staff practice the interactive method of teaching. Teaching-learning is made interactive through:

- Course related discussions and queries before, during and after the lecture session.
- Brainstorming on a particular topic of study.
- Group discussions that facilitate generation of ideas, collaborative work and develop skills of communication.
- Assignments prepared and presented by students which generate questions by peers and course teacher.
- Seminars by students on different topics using audio-visual aids.
- Group Presentations that call for student-student-tutor communication, build team spirit and encourage exchange of ideas. This also presents an opportunity for peer assessment in addition to feedback from the course teacher.

Project Based Learning

A group of students are placed under the guidance of a faculty who chalks out the strategies to be employed during the course of the project. Projects are chosen and designed to ensure that they are innovative, current and relevant, with the aim of fostering global competency. Through projects, students develop skills such as selection and implementation of ideas, conceptualization and collection of data, in addition to gaining industry and research exposure. Post Graduate students are encouraged to take up projects and publish their findings in journals.

Computer Assisted Learning

The departments of Computer Studies [Computer Science, BCA and M.Sc.IT] use this method to supplement the lecture method. Power Point and OHP presentations are made by staff from various departments to enrich classroom learning. An English Language Lab has been set up to enhance the communication skills of students. Students have access to computers and internet facility in the college and are encouraged to use the same for collection of data for assignments, seminars and project work that are a part of their curriculum. In addition, students who do not have a computer-related paper in their curriculum are offered one as allied or non-major elective.

Experiential Learning

To add to what is learnt in the classroom, the institution paves the way for experiential hands-on-learning in order to gear students for the challenging and competitive world of work. Internship, field trips and industrial visits contribute to an enhanced learning atmosphere for students as they learn by doing, get directly involved and gain a better understanding, and hence retain information for a longer period. Seminars, workshops, symposia and competitions organized under the auspices of the Departmental Clubs with student initiative trains them in the skills of goal setting, decision making and problem solving. Experimenting, observing, reviewing, and action planning are other key skills honed in this method of education. Students are thus gradually trained to become independent learners capable of direct learning even after completion of the course/ all through their life.

2.3.3 How is learning made student-centric? What are the institutional strategies, which contribute to acquisition of life skills, knowledge management skills and lifelong learning?

The institution aims at imparting holistic education to students and hence teaching-learning is made student-centric through various means. Faculty identify student's needs, abilities, interests and learning styles and provide opportunities in the college for independent learning, skill development and active participation.

The institution offers Life Skill Training through implementation of programmes through NCC, NSS, Environmental Studies (Tree Plantation, Traffic Control & awareness campaign, Adult Education), EDC, NEN, and Yoga that instill confidence and self dependence, and inculcate entrepreneurial skills that enhance the lifestyle of the students and create better job opportunities.

Knowledge Management Skills – In an attempt to enrich students' capabilities and enrich their knowledge, the college provides training to students in the areas of Aptitude Testing, Soft Skills Training and Computing Skills apart from Projects on Environmental Studies. Group Discussions, Quiz, Projects, Assignments, Seminars and Field visits, a regular feature of academic training, contribute to the enhancement of students' knowledge quotient. Besides, students are encouraged to use the computer and internet facilities, as well the library resources available in the campus to update themselves with current information in their field of study.

In addition to the regular academic schema, the institution attempts to instill the culture of Lifelong Learning in its youth through implementation of new initiatives such as IT for Non-IT, Soft Skills, Spoken English Course, learning of foreign languages like French or German and Certificate Courses that keep students abreast of significant areas of current interest, besides the practice of A Word a Day, Thought for the Day and circulation of Newspapers to students. Ex: Tally, HTML, MS Office and DMLT.

2.3.4 How does the institution ensure that the students have effective learning experiences? (Use of modern teaching aids and tools like computers, audio-visuals multi-media, ICT, CAL, Internet and other information /materials)

Staff of the college use modern teaching aids and tools such as LCD projector, computer, laptop, audio-visual equipment/ downloads of current issues, OHP. The visual impact provided by these tools capture students' attention, supplements classroom learning and makes it an enriching experience.

- Each department has a computer with internet facility to help staff collect information on topics and prepare for the lecture.
- An audio-visual room is available for the use of all the departments
OHPs are made available for use to all the departments.

- LCD Projectors are available for use by the faculty and students.
  - A Language Lab is maintained by the department of English with adequate software.

Students are also encouraged to make Seminars and Presentations using LCD and OHP.

2.3.5 How do the students and faculty keep pace with the recent developments in the various subjects?

Several measures are implemented to help students keep pace with recent developments in their field of study:

❖ Students

- The faculty collect articles on recent research and findings from newspapers and the internet to be read in class and displayed on the department notice board for the benefit of students.

2.3.6. Are there departmental libraries for the use of faculty and students? If yes, how effectively are they used for the enhancement of teaching and learning?

Each department in the college maintain a reference library with books required for use by faculty and students. This is in addition to the department-specific books maintained in the general library. Faculty members use the department library to access information for their lectures, provide additional data to students, choose relevant topics for students' seminars and assignments as a means to enhance the teaching-learning process. Students gain access to books from the department library for reference work, to update themselves on fields of study and related and relevant areas of current interest, to prepare assignments and seminars and make presentations.

2.3.7. Has the institution introduced evaluation of the teachers by students? If yes, how is the feedback analyzed and implemented for the improvement of teaching?

The college has implemented the mechanism of Teacher Evaluation by students. Evaluation of staff by students is carried out at the end of each academic year. The questionnaire is to gain relevant and concrete information that would help in enhancing the quality of teaching. This evaluation process is completely online and confidentiality is maintained regarding data obtained. The feedback obtained is scrutinized by the Principal and constructive action is taken on the basis of information gained to ensure improvement in teaching methodologies and sustain quality in the teaching process. As an outcome and wherever required faculty are notified about areas that need improvement and in critical cases the matter is viewed seriously and taken to the notice of the Management.

2.4 Teacher Quality

2.4.1 How are the members of the faculty selected? Does the college have the required number of qualified and competent teachers to handle all the courses? If not, how does the institution cope with the requirements?

The college has the required number of qualified and competent staff to handle all courses. Faculty members are selected based on the guidelines of the University of Madras.

When a vacancy arises it is brought to the notice of the Management who advertise the vacancy in the newspapers. The HR shortlists candidates on the basis of qualification and experience and sends the list to the College Staff Selection Committee comprising Principal, Vice Principal and the respective Head of department. After the due process of interview [Personal Interview and Lecture Demonstration] the list of selected staff is intimated to the Management followed by the appointment.

2.5 Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 How are the evaluation methods communicated to the students and other institutional members?

Methods of evaluation and examination dates are initially discussed during the Council meeting with Heads of departments and finalized by the Principal, Vice Principal and Convener of Examinations. This is then printed in the college calendar. Circulars to this effect are also sent to the departments before the commencement of the new academic year. First year students and their parents are apprised of the evaluation methods during the Freshers' Orientation Programme. The Principal informs all the students of the same during a general assembly attended by staff and students. Heads of Departments and Course Teachers keep the students informed about the testing patterns, scheme of evaluation and attendance requirements.

2.5.2 How does the institution monitor the progress of the students and communicate it to the students and their parents?

The students' achievement in the learning process is evaluated chiefly through Continuous Internal Assessments (CIA). 3 continuous internal assessments on 30 marks each with time duration of 1 Hour are conducted at regular and scheduled intervals, of which 2 highest CIA marks are chosen and converted to 10. Seminars and Assignments, two other methods of evaluation, are assigned 5 marks each. Students are notified about the dates and topics in advance and are expected to adhere to the same. 5 marks are allotted for Attendance Percentage. Thus the Internal Evaluation amounts to a total of 25 marks. The External Examination conducted by the University of Madras carries 75 marks and results in a total of 100 marks.

Students are informed about their academic progress through course teachers, class teachers and respective mentors who keep track of students' performance. Parents are apprised of their wards' progress through regular Parent-Teacher meetings organized by the college. Parents of weak students are contacted through phone or post cards and individual meetings are organized for their benefit. If the need arises, the Principal or the Vice Principal also speaks to such students and their parents.

2.5.3 What is the mechanism for Redressal of grievances regarding evaluation?

All grievances related to evaluation are addressed by the Examination Redressal Cell with Vice Principal and two staff as members. The cell makes available a form that can be filled in by students and submitted to the staff in charge. Alternately, students can also mail their queries and receive clarifications regarding the same to alphaexamredressal@gmail.com. Periodically the students are apprised of the purpose and functions of the cell. Measures are taken to ensure easy access to cell members and prompt redressal of queries.

2.5.4 What are the major evaluation reforms initiated by the institution/affiliating University? How does the institution ensure effective implementation of these reforms?

A number of reforms in evaluation were initiated by the University of Madras: The CBCS system introduced in 2007 was implemented by the college. Under this system each subject carries a fixed weightage and students are expected to acquire the required number of credits in addition to a minimum pass in order to qualify for the degree. Non-major/Basic Tamil is offered under Part IV, in addition to Skill Based Subjects offered from Semesters I to IV. Value Education is also offered under the same in Semester V. Extension Activities offered under Part V are compulsory and carry credits.

The University of Madras introduced major reforms in Evaluation and Testing Methods. According to the university's prescription Internal and External Examinations are conducted. The Internal Examination conducted for 25 Marks includes a) three continuous internal assessments [of which two best are chosen], b) Seminar c) Assignment and d) Attendance. The external examination is conducted for 75 marks.

The institution ensures that the reforms by the University are carried out in toto.

CRITERION VII: INNOVATIVE PRACTICES

7.1. Internal Quality Assurance System

7.1.1 What mechanisms have been developed by the institution for quality assurance within the existing academic and administrative systems?

- The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) was set up in the college in 2010 in accordance with NAAC guidelines

Academic Systems

- Mentor-Ward Meeting
- Parent-Teacher Meeting
- Student Feedback on Staff performance

- Departments are encouraged to conduct Seminars and Conferences
- Placement Cell

Administrative Systems

- Weekly Reports to the Management.
- Advisory Board Meeting
- Staff Appraisal by Expert.
- Exam Redressal Cell
- Women's Cell
- NRI Cell
- Differently-abled Students' Cell
- Counselor
- Computerization of Data

7.1.2. What are the functions carried out by the above mechanisms in the quality enhancement of the institution?

IQAC

- Sets benchmarks for quality assurance in academics and administration.
- Collects data and provides parameters for appraisal of both staff and students.
- Collects and analyses the Self Appraisal Report of the faculty and forwards it to the Principal. [only????]
- Student Feedback on teaching and course content is analyzed and forwarded to the Principal for corrective measures. [only????]
- Keeps track of Faculty participation in conferences or seminars and presentation of papers in reputed journals.
- Carries out academic auditing for labs and other administration cells.

Academic Systems

- Mentor-Ward meetings are held twice a month on a regular basis. Each mentor maintains a record of data related to their wards. When the need arises wards are counseled by the mentor to help them overcome hurdles thereby motivating them to concentrate on academics. In special cases, a ward's problems are brought to the notice of the HOD concerned and the Vice Principal or Principal.
- Parent-Teacher Meetings are held every semester after the first CIA but before the second CIA. The meet helps staff to appraise parents about their wards' academic performance and disciplinary issues if any.

- Student Feedback is obtained to ascertain the quality of teaching imparted. It creates a chance for corrective measures, to remedy gaps in the teaching-learning process, and also helps in updating teaching methodology.
- The departments are encouraged to conduct seminars and conferences. This exposes staff and students to international standards of research and facilitates knowledge enrichment. In addition, interaction with industrial experts paves the way for collaborative research work.
  - The Placement Cell helps students determine their educational and career goals, acquire career-oriented skills and attain desired employment. It trains them in group discussions, aptitude tests, numerical ability and technical facets, conducts mock interviews and organizes recruitment drives both off campus and on campus.

Administrative Systems

- Weekly Reports

Heads of departments send a weekly report to the Principal, Vice Principal, CEO and Management detailing academic work done by each staff member in addition to other activities.

- Advisory Board Meeting

The committee comprising Principal, Vice Principal, and Head of the Department also has an industry personnel and an academic expert. It meets periodically to discuss the curriculum, suggest modifications and implement certificate or training programmes, if necessary.

- Staff Appraisal

Staff Appraisal is conducted every academic year by a team comprising Principal, Vice Principal and an external Expert to examine staff contribution to the college qualification, participation in conferences, seminars and workshops, presentations and publications as an attempt to improve the teaching standards of the staff.

- Exam Redressal Cell

The Cell addresses students' queries and clarifications regarding internal assessments of papers as and when the need arises. Grievances related to evaluation are addressed by the Examination Redressal Cell with Vice Principal and two staff as members. Students can fill in a form available in the Cell and submit it to the staff in charge or mail their queries to and receive clarifications regarding the same at alphagrievancescell@gmail.com. The students are apprised of the purpose and functions of the cell. Measures are taken to ensure easy access to cell members and prompt redressal of queries.

- Women's Cell

The Women's Cell comprising two staff-in-charge deals with the grievances of female students and staff. It creates awareness on women's issues through Seminars and Guest Lectures, assists women in the college facing problems and attempts to sensitize male students on gender issues.

□ NRI Cell

The NRI Cell aims to facilitate smooth transition of foreign and NRI students to life in Chennai and in the college amidst students from varied cultural and religious backgrounds. Staff-in-charge organize orientation programmes to enlighten this group on the regional and local culture, language, clothes, food and transportation, to name a few. The cell also attempts to sensitize Indian students to similar details regarding the other group in order to create an atmosphere of bonhomie and alleviate homesickness. Periodic meetings, cultural and orientation programmes organized in the campus help achieve these goals.

2.4.5 *How often does the institution organize training programmes for the faculty in the use of?

- a) Computers
- b) Internet
- c) Audio Visual Aids
- d) Computer-Aided Packages
- e) Material development for CAL, multi-media etc.

The college conducts training programmes for its staff in the use of computers, internet and audio-visual aids. The programmes are conducted annually.

2.5 Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 *How are the evaluation methods communicated to the students and other institutional members?

Methods of evaluation and examination dates are initially discussed during the Council meeting comprising Heads of departments and finalized by the Principal, Vice Principal and Convener of Examinations. This is then printed in the college calendar. First year students and their parents are apprised of the evaluation methods during the Freshers’ Orientation Programme. The Principal informs all the students of the same during general assembly attended by staff and students. Heads of Departments and Course Teachers keep students informed about the testing patterns, scheme of evaluation and attendance requirements. Additionally, the Time Table is displayed on the department Notice Board.

2.5.2 How does the institution monitor the progress of the students and communicate it to the students and their parents?

The students' achievement in the learning process is evaluated chiefly through Continuous Internal Assessments (CIA). 3 continuous internal assessments/ tests on 30 marks each with time duration of 1 Hour are conducted at regular and scheduled intervals, of which 2 highest CIA marks are chosen and reduced to 10. Seminars and Assignments, two other methods of evaluation, are assigned 5 marks each. Students are notified about the dates and topics in advance and are expected to adhere to the same. 5 marks are allotted for Attendance. Thus the Internal Evaluation amounts to a total of 25 marks. The External Examination conducted by the University of Madras carries 75 marks and results in a total of 100 marks. Before the commencement of the University Exams students receive a written statement of internal marks.

Students are informed about their academic progress through the subject teachers, class teachers and respective mentors who keep track of students' performance. Parents are apprised of their wards' progress through regular Parent-Teacher meetings organized by the college. Parents of weak students are contacted through phone or mail and individual meetings are organized for their benefit. If the need arises, the Principal or Vice Principal also counsels such students and their parents.

2.5.3 What is the mechanism for Redressal of grievances regarding evaluation?

All grievances related to evaluation are addressed by the Examination Redressal Cell with Vice Principal as Convener and two staff as members. Students register queries or grievances in a form and submit the same to staff in charge. Alternately, students can also mail their queries and receive clarifications regarding the same to alphaexamredressal@gmail.com. Periodically the students are apprised of the purpose and functions of the cell. Measures are taken to ensure easy access to cell members and prompt redressal of queries.

2.5.4 What are the major evaluation reforms initiated by the institution/affiliating University? How does the institution ensure effective implementation of these reforms?

A number of reforms in evaluation were initiated by the University of Madras. The CBCS system introduced in 2007 was implemented by the college. Under this system each subject carries a fixed weightage and students are expected to acquire the required number of credits in addition to a minimum pass in order to qualify for the degree. Non-major/Basic Tamil is offered under Part IV, in addition to Skill Based Subjects offered from Semesters I to IV. Value Education is also offered under the same in Semester V. Extension Activities offered under Part V is compulsory and carries credits.

The University of Madras introduced major reforms in Evaluation and Testing Methods. According to the University's prescription Internal and External Examinations are conducted by the institution.

The institution ensures that the reforms by the University are carried out in toto. Some of the measures undertaken by the college to ensure effective implementation of reforms are as follows:

- Personality Development Training for staff members prior to training imparted to students under the Soft Skills Programme.
- Training in ICT carried out for Non-IT students as part of Soft Skills Programme.
- Part time faculty engaged to teach German to students who opt for German under the soft skills programme.
- Vibrant Examination Cell in place - working round the year - to effectively implement the evaluation process.

In its first phase, studies were undertaken on the antimicrobial property of the seaweed against bacterial pathogens using different solvent extracts of both brown and green variety. In case of brown variety, chloroform and chloroform: methanol extracts showed maximum bioactivity result against the entire 5 tested organism, whereas n- hexane extract failed to do so.

Chloroform (B) extracts showed higher degrees of antibacterial activity rather than extracts obtained from green variety with methanol. Ethyl acetate and ethanol extracts showed satisfactory results against all test organisms.

The pilot study revealed that the sea weed has antimicrobial activity and is further to be initiated to identify the compound responsible for the above said activity. The findings contributed to subject knowledge and helped in knowledge sharing amongst the student community.

The institution promotes co-operation, knowledge-sharing, innovations and empowerment of faculty through the following initiatives:

- Co-operation: Staff of various departments are placed in varied committees based on their skills/expertise during programmes [College Day, Sports Day, Graduation Day, Christmas Day Celebrations] organized in the college. This helps creates a congenial atmosphere for bonding and skill-sharing and provides common ground for staff from other disciplines to work together with team spirit.

- Skill-Sharing: The College organizes Faculty Development Programmes wherein staff of the college serve as resource persons and share their knowledge with fellow staff from other departments. Staff of the department of English share their Communication Skills in English with other staff. Staff of Department of Visual Communication help in the publication of departmental journals and college magazine. In addition, staff who attend prestigious seminars, conferences or workshops share knowledge gained with the teaching fraternity through power point presentations. Staff of the department also teach specific papers related to their discipline to students from other departments. Non-Teaching staff too benefit from such ventures as the college periodically conducts programmes such as “IT for Non-IT” to help improve skills in certain areas using the expertise of staff in the college. Heads of Departments share the good practices followed in their departments with counterparts during council meetings. Principal and Vice Principal guide staff members in improving teaching methodology, and organize orientation programs to improve staff performance.
- Innovations: Faculty are provided with facilities like computer and internet to make teaching interesting and innovative.
- Empowerment: Staff are given opportunities to attend conferences, present and publish papers at regional/national/international forums. They are encouraged to register for Ph.D., involve in other research work, take up degree/diploma/ certificate courses, and offer consultancy services to enhance their skills and capabilities. Sufficient measures are in place to help staff who attend conferences, and in the case of those pursuing research flexibility in timing is permitted.

6.4 Human Resource Management

6.4.1 What are the mechanisms for performance assessment (teaching, research, service) of faculty and staff? (Self-appraisal method, comprehensive evaluation by students and peers). Does the institution use the evaluations to improve teaching/ research of the faculty and service of the faculty by other staff? If yes, how?

The college adopts comprehensive mechanisms for performance assessment of faculty, namely a. Student Evaluation of Faculty b. Self Appraisal c. Staff Appraisal.

Student Evaluation of Faculty

Feedback is obtained from students on staff performance [competency, portion completion, student-teacher relationship, fluency] to assess faculty contribution to the teaching-learning process. Based on feedback received, appropriate counseling is given to faculty for improvement. Evaluation is done online and is highly confidential.

Self Appraisal

Annually staff submit a self appraisal form that details personal accomplishments related to papers presented/ published, books authored, patents, membership in professional bodies, certification acquired responsibilities held and research status c.

Staff Appraisal

Staff appraisal by an external expert is carried out every academic year with Principal and Vice Principal as members of the panel. Staff make power point presentations on work carried out during the year, papers taught, research, publications, paper presentations and workshops/ conferences attended.

Information obtained from the above evaluative mechanisms is used to improve teaching, learning and evaluation methodologies, in addition to providing an enhanced atmosphere conducive to holistic learning.

6.4.2 *What are the welfare measures for the staff and faculty? (mention only those which affect and improve staff well-being, satisfaction and motivation)

  - All recruitments are based on the development of a comprehensive job description for each available position. Each job description specifies the position's objectives, work environment, scope of activities, essential knowledge, skills, and experience.
  - The Recruitment Committee, comprising Principal, Vice Principal, Head of the respective Department and Human Resource Manager, selects the candidate after an interview which includes lecture demonstration and personal interaction.

6.4.4 *What are the criteria for employing part-time/adhoc faculty? How are the recruitment conditions of part-time/adhoc faculty different from that of the regular faculty? (Eg. salary structure, workload, specialisations).

The college prefers full time faculty for all faculty positions. However, in areas where either the workload requirement is not sufficient or when expertise of industry personnel is to be employed, part-time/ ad-hoc faculty are employed. In such cases, Heads of Departments recommend to the Principal the part-time/ ad-hoc faculty requirement. On approval from the Principal, the Human Resource Department source candidates who then are interviewed by a duly constituted faculty recruitment committee. Based on the workload and other requirements, pay structures are either consolidated in structure or calculated on a pro rata basis.
